

RANCHERS BUY A CAR OF PORKERS

Upper Valley Land Owners Cooperate to Get Blood-ied Hogs on the Land.

Cooperative hog buying is a new idea which the upper valley ranchers are trying. Three ranches in the upper valley have been stocked from a carload of Poland China hogs which were bought in Fort Worth by an expert and shipped to the valley several weeks ago.

The hogs were bought for the dairy ranch owned by U. S. Stewart, Mark L. Cadwallader and others; for the Horner ranch which is owned by H. S. Potter, J. P. Williams and their associates and by the Rancho San Jacinto which is owned by Tony Carlet. The hogs averaged $27.50 each and the boys $4; they being among the finest ever brought to the upper valley. The shipment included 125 animals and they were placed on the different ranches as soon as they arrived and many of the sows have already borne litters. This is expected to be the beginning of a big valley industry as the ranchers are watching the test on the three ranches and expect to buy hogs for their ranches.

To Feed Cattle.
A number of the upper valley ranchers are also making plans to feed cattle as soon as the quarantine is lifted, according to Mr. Ferlet, who was in El Paso Monday.

"Feeding has proved to be a good business in our valley," said Mr. Ferlet, "and many are expecting to utilize their lands for the feeding of cattle for market. The people of our valley are much interested in livestock, especially hogs, dairy cows and feeders. P. B. Barker, the expert on dairymen, was at the Anthony school house Saturday and is planning to return next Saturday for another lecture. He is a dairy expert who has much experience in the experience in the valley and is a valuable aid to our farmers."

NO LOSS DURING ENTIRE QUARANTINE PERIOD

Massey Cattle Get No Extra Feed, but Do Well on the Pecos Range.

Midland, Tex., April 6.—Without extra feeding, W. C. Massey's cattle went through the winter without a single loss. The cattle came through in good shape and Mr. Massey is making sales at satisfactory prices. He has sold 500 cows to Lee S. Evans.

T. O. Reed, of near Lovington, N. M., who passed through Midland to the east to buy some yearling heifers for his ranch, reported the sale of a bunch of cows at from $25 to $35.

J. F. Wyck and H. D. Polk and Durham cows which they have added to their herd of 100 which they have been wintering near El Paso. The Wyck and Polk both formerly were with the G. W. Wolcott ranch near Midland, Wyck having been foreman there for four years.

Gets Cows From Fort Worth.
John Reynolds has received 24 cows from Fort Worth. They were bought of R. L. Hicks.

D. Taylor, a Van Horn ranchman, has bought 25 bulls in Midland. He also bought a fine stallion and the bulls and stallion have been put on his ranch.

ADDS 100 WHITEFACED HEREFORDS TO HIS HERD.
Big Springs, Texas, April 6.—One hundred three whitefaced Hereford cows of the Henry Boatler herd have been bought by Otis Chalk. The cows have been added to Mr. Chalk's herd on his ranch as a part of his regular breeding herd.

SHIPMENTS MAY RESUME SHORTLY

Cattlemen Look For a Gradual Lifting of the Quarantine in Southwest.

Cattle shipments, with certain restrictions, will be permitted within the next 30 days, in the opinion of local cattlemen. This opinion is based on the fact that not a single case of the hoof and mouth disease has made its appearance in the southwest, and at the same time conditions in the middle west have continued to improve. It is not believed that the quarantine will be entirely lifted for some time to come, but that the restriction will gradually be made less stringent.

Chihuahua Cattle Await Shipment.
Cattlemen of northern Chihuahua state that large numbers of cattle will be entered here as soon as possible. Range conditions to the south are only fair and stockmen are anxious to ship to range in this country. Shipments of dressed beef from the packing plant in Juarez continue to be made through this port, in bond.

Good Year for Sheep.
Wood Hayes, a prominent sheep man of the Roswell section, is in the city. Mr. Hayes states that this year has been an exceptionally good one for sheep in New Mexico. At the time of the quarantine he was expecting to ship a large number of sheep to the Fort Worth market.

VANHORN MEN SELL 498 MIXED STEERS FOR $16,000.
Van Horn, Texas, April 6.—The largest sale of cattle made here in several months was the sale of 498 head of mixed steers by R. Durrill and W. D. Medley. They were delivered at the Arnold ranch at Hereford, Texas. The sale brought a total of $16,000.

Bear brothers have purchased all of the Guy Bounds cattle.

Thinks Quarantine Matter Could Be Adjusted at Governors' Conference.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 6.—Quarantine regulations will be the principal subject under discussion at the quarterly meeting of the Arizona livestock sanitary board, to be held at the capitol, April 12.

"We hope that before April 12 the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas will meet at El Paso and agree upon definite quarantine regulations against the foot and mouth disease," said Secretary Sam B. Bradner. "At San Francisco the veterinary authorities of these three states reached a tentative agreement, and Colorado agreed to come in upon anything that should be put up by the other states. The agreement is effective, shipments of livestock, hay and grain will pass freely to either up or down the valley between Mexico and Texas, but all will have the same regulations against other states."

"It is possible that the governors could arrange everything by correspondence but it will be more satisfactory if they can meet in El Paso. They must settle upon regulations governing the importation of grain, for instance. A distinction will be made between grain imported for milling and grain brought in for stock feed."

SPRING ROUNDUP FINISHED; GRANT CATTLE ARE ALL FAT
Lordsburg, N. M., April 10.—The spring roundup on the plains just south of Lordsburg has been finished and the winter herds at the lake have been taken to their spring watering holes. Over 2000 head of cattle were put off by the various owners in the southern end of Grant county and practically every large outfit in the section was represented.

The cattle were fat and in an excellent condition and the men present for the roundup declared the range in their districts to be in the best shape possible.

Spring shipments are being conducted for at the present time but progress has been rather retarded on account of the quarantine.

AMERICANS RETURN WITHOUT CATTLE; SEIZED BY MEXICANS.
Presidio, Texas, April 6.—R. Curtis and Buford Patterson, who went into Mexico to catch up and ship cattle through this port, have returned and they brought no cattle with them. They were prevented from doing so by Mexican soldiers who are acting under orders from Rosendo Hernandez, who is said to be holding the cattle and branding the calves with his own brand. Ranches formerly owned by Clements have been seized by Hernandez, it is reported under orders of the confiscation board at Chihuahua.

Despite the Texas quarantine and the prohibition of Mexican authorities, it is reported that a number of cattle are being crossed.

OWENS SELLS 350 TWO YEAR OLD STEERS AT $44 AROUND.

Fort Stockton, Texas, April 6.—For a price of $44 around, Lucien Owens has sold to Davenport & Gage, 350 head of two year old steers on the Hare and Satche ranch. The steers were Owens' personal holdings of the ranch cattle. The steers were delivered Monday at the Davenport place on the Davenport ranch, which is 15 miles from the pasture where the steers were raised.

Besman and Mills have a car of hogs ready for shipment to the market. The hogs are corn and mule fed, and are Tamworths and Poland Chinas.

BUYS 20 PINK BULLS FROM RANCH IN MEXICO.
Marfa, Texas, April 6.—Twenty thoroughbred bulls have been purchased by W. H. Jennings, of El Paso, from L. C. Britte. The bulls will be sent to the Jennings & Blocker ranch in Mexico.

GETS CAR OF YEARLINGS FOR HIS RIVERTON RANCH.

FREE LESTOCK ROAD

President Jastro Says Consumer Not Benefited and the Producer Suffers.

Fear that the removal of the duty on livestock might make the livestock business in this country less profitable has been a dominant influence in excluding livestock from the free list.

This was emphasized by J. A. Jastro, president of the American National Live Stock Association in his address at the San Francisco convention.

Proves a Delusion.
Mr. Jastro said: "It was vigorously asserted by the supporters of the Underwood tariff bill that the placing of meat and live stock on the free list would result in cheaper prices. This proved to be a delusion so far as the consumer is concerned."

"Live stock conditions in other countries change as fast as here and no one can foresee when this country will receive larger importations of meat products, which temporarily affect our prices here. An import duty would tend to minimize live stock fluctuations caused from imports and other causes, and would insulate the domestic market from the fluctuations of fear in the minds of the producers."

The powers in Mexico have levied an export duty on livestock twice as large as the import duty on this government took off. Some enterprising Mexicans are now slaughtering confiscated cattle in El Paso and shipping the meat free into the United States. We cannot ship meat into Mexico without paying a duty, and the Mexicans can ship live stock and meats into our country free, and have been doing so, while we pay an import duty on live stock and meats shipped into Canada. Argentina stockmen and slaughterers absorbed the amount of the duty which this government removed. During 1914 the United States received more than one-half the hides exported from Argentina, and they came here without paying any duty. Hides and leather goods are not any cheaper now than previous to the removal of the duty on hides."

No Benefit to Consumer.
"The placing of live stock, meats, hides and wool on the free list has been of no real benefit to the consumer, and has given packers and those operating in other countries a decided advantage; it has taken from our government a large sum of much needed revenue, and has tended to make the raising and maturing of live stock in this country a more uncertain business."

"Stock Raising Homestead" Law.
Referring to the bill to provide for stock raising homesteads which passed the lower house of congress but failed of passage in the senate, Mr. Jastro said:

"The advocates of the measure claim that all the government land on which a man can make a living on 160 or 320 acres has been exhausted, and that a larger allotment is now necessary to encourage the homesteader to take up a claim. Some of its supporters assert that many of those who take up these acre homesteads, in certain parts of the semi-arid west, could not exist on that amount of land. It is not true that the vast majority of the remaining public land is in the hands of a few men. In fact, there is a living on 640 acres. In fact, there are millions of acres of government land in the west on which it would take a most experienced stockman to raise a single head of cattle. It is not true that capital to succeed on five or even 10 sections."

Good in Theory.
"The theory of the bill is most commendable, viz., to provide a grazing homestead on which a man could make a living. I believe that the bill, as it is now, is a very good one, but it is a limited extent only, aids in the solution of the question of grazing land, and is most beneficial use of the remaining public domain."

"There are now approximately 300,000,000 acres of unappropriated unserved public lands outside of the national forests. Only a small fraction thereof has any agricultural possibilities, and under this bill, the secretary of the interior shall not designate for entry land of which owing to its general character or general conditions, in his opinion, 640 acres clearly will not support a family. In my judgment it is not likely that more than 10,000,000 acres will ever come under the provisions of this bill, if finally passed, and that is less than 1 percent of the remaining public domain."

Should Support Bill.
"Our association should support this bill and, so far as possible, after we should assist the secretary of the interior in the very difficult task of designating those lands where 640 acres will support a family. It is not our policy to oppose the legitimate homesteader. It is my opinion that this bill will dispose of all land that under any method can be called semi-agricultural land. The remainder will be strictly grazing land, and we believe should be controlled along similar lines as the administration of grazing on national forests. Such is the intent of the Kent bill."

SILVER CITY SHIPS HALF MILLION WORTH OF CATTLE.
Silver City, N. M., April 6.—Cattle is rapidly becoming one of Silver City's greatest assets and is making this town a center for the cattlemen of southern New Mexico. During 1914 there were more than $500,000 worth of cattle shipped out of here.

A fair estimate of the number of cattle shipped from Silver City has been placed at 12,500 and is a fortune in itself besides the one and other products shipped from here.

Fielder Jones Makes His Team Bat Constantly Coaches St. Louis Federals

AVANA, Cuba, April 6.—Fielder Jones has taken a lot of poor looking baseball material and made it into a ball club that ought to be able to put up a very good battle this year under the colors of the St. Louis Federals.

The Stouffers didn't look overly good last year. The main reason seemed to be that Miner Brown, the first manager of the club, was too easy with his men. Jones is a different type—a far different one—than was Brown.

Jones' managerial methods are different than those of any other coach in the Federal League. Jones is a stern task-master. He believes in individual training for his men. He coaches every batter and coaches every pitcher. Then he coaches the infielders and outfielders, hovering over each in turn, pointing out faults and their weaknesses.

Would Develop Batting Strength.
Jones is trying to develop batting strength in his club. To do this he gets Jones' men to bat in pairs and criticizes the batter swings at a bad one Jones gives him a "call." If he lets a bad one go, however, Jones is right there with a word of praise for good judgment.

Has Plank, Crandall, Groom.
Jones will have a better pitching staff this year than last. Eddie Plank, the Athletic veteran, is showing up in old time form in his new uniform, and Del Drake, formerly with the Tigers, and Larry Kirby, from Mobile, Ala., who was on the Giants reserve list, are the two extra outfielders.

"I look for my boys to show some real baseball this year," Jones says. Here is the probable make-up of the St. Louis Federals: Catcher—Harley (regular); Chapman (relief); Pitchers—Plank, Groom, Willett, Crandall (regular); Davenport, Watson, Herbert (relief); First base—Borton; Second base—Bridwell; Third base—Deal; Shortstop—Johnson; Left field—Marans; Right field—Zobin; Utility infielders—Vaughn, Fritz; Utility outfielders—Drake, Kirby.

In Boyland:

COMPLAINTS have been made by several managers that opposing teams are not sticking to the age limits which they have registered with this department. One team that gave the age of its players as from "12 to 18 years," is said to have one player of 14, seven of about 15 and one still older. Other teams are accused of having used unregistered players in their games, players who are far above the registered average of the team. The reports may have been exaggerated. Coming from hasty teams, I might be tempted to look upon them as "allies." But in two cases the complaints have come from teams that have won. It is hardly sportsmanlike to pose your team as one of players whose average age is 12, say, 15 years and then to field a team whose average age is nearer 17.

Two more teams have been in to see about the free uniforms given by The Herald. The Vilas expect to be tormented in their "game" in a very short time, while another club is putting the proposition before its members to night. It takes only a few hours of the circulation department of The Herald to earn the suits. How about yours?

The Vilas defeated the Franklin Stars on Monday afternoon on the Vilas school grounds by a score of 24 to 3. The Vilas were right on deck when it came to slugging the ball, and they all fattened their batting averages. The Franklin put up a plucky battle, but it just happened to be the batting day for the Vilas, and the Franklin were unable to check them. Mayo Seaman, who was on the slab for the Vilas, twirled nice ball and he was also there at bat, turning out a home run with the bases full, besides contributing a share of singles, doubles and triples. Roy Lawrence hit for one circuit while Bryle Schuyler also broke into the home run column.

The batting order of the Vilas was: Nathan Curdova, 1st; Mayo Seaman, 2d; Guyler Magruder, 3d; Philip Cordova, 4d; Patrick Dwyer, 5th; Roy Lawrence, 6th; Bryle Schuyler, 7th; Fred Welsh, 8th; Leroy Schuyler, 9th. The batting order of the Franklin Stars is not available. Fisher pitched for the Stars.

The Lone Stars announce that the score of the El Paso Giants-Lone Stars game on Sunday was 7 to 6 in favor of the Giants, and not 9 to 6, as reported, and that the game went ten innings before being decided.

The East El Paso Juniors lost to the Lone Stars on Saturday by a score of 12 to 5, the game being played on the Foundry grounds. The Lone Stars pounded out a victory, being superior slickers. The East El Paso Juniors proved their equal in fielding. Howard Leuthy pitched a nice game for the Lone Stars and was caught by Billy Krause.

If the Port Bliss Juniors want a game for Saturday, they can be accommodated if they will get in touch with the manager of the Lone Stars at 200 East San Antonio street. The Lone Stars believe that the Port Bliss boys are big league and older than their own team, but they say that they can't.

WORK IS COMMENCED AT BASEBALL PARK

Contractors Agree to Have Stands and Park Completed by April 16 for Playing Season.

Work on the construction of the fence and stands at Rio Grande park, the new home of the El Paso ball team in the Rio Grande league, was started at 3 o'clock this morning and the contractors have agreed to turn the playing field over to manager McCloskey by April 15, which has been decided upon as the reporting date of the local players.

Manager McCloskey met the members of the chamber of commerce at luncheon today and talked over with them the arrangements for the opening day, April 27.

Bill Hurley sends word from Las Cruces that everything is going nicely, despite the fact that the opponents of the league have now come out into the open in that city and are fighting him. The fans realize, however, that the arrangement whereby Las Cruces will play many of its games here will mean good financial receipts and that the stock company will be able to pay a nice dividend. The opposition comes from friends of the old bush teams, which want to break up the league and continue to graft off easy change.

The day of bush ball in the cities of the southwest has departed," says Hurley, "and once the fans see league baseball they will never regret the change. The real fans of Las Cruces are backing the club to the limit and Hurley expects to have his first work-out either next Saturday or Monday. He has already ordered six men to report to him.

McCloskey will go to Silver City before he goes to the western end of the circuit. Arrangements for the opening game at Silver City will be made at a public meeting this week and McCloskey has agreed to attend.

Jim Brown, the Tucson manager, has asked the case of the league meeting be postponed a few days. He wants to see Noodles in the circuit as well as Tucson and Phoenix, and believes that if the meeting is postponed until about April 15 or 16, it will be possible to start off with eight clubs.

AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE CONSIDERING FARM EXPERT
Action relative to appointing a farm demonstrator for the valley will be taken in a few days by the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce.

A number of applications have been received and the committee will arrange to have the applicants meet with W. F. Froude, head of the extension work in Texas, who is here in connection with the appointment of an expert. Although somewhat late in the season it is stated that the demonstrator will still have time to supervise planting and harvesting of a number of crops.

FOUR TEAMS FORM COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

Organization of the Commercial Baseball League was effected at a meeting held Monday night at the office of William and Selphay in the Electric light building. Mr. Selphay was elected president but the office of secretary treasurer was not filled. The executive committee, being authorized to communicate with two men and find out whether either will take the position and report at another meeting on Wednesday night.

There will be four teams in the league. The Feldmans, Everybody's, Puritas and Shelton-Payne. The season will open on April 15 at Washington park, with the Feldmans playing the Shelton-Payne and the Everybody's meeting Puritas.

At the meeting on Wednesday night, the committee will report a proposition to have a number of prominent local fans, such as Robert Holliday and Dave Crockett, set up an advisory committee for the league.

The executive committee will consist of the president, secretary and the four managers.
